2.3 CONSOLIDATED LIST OF REQUIREMENTS

- For making it easy to get the knowledge regarding to IT.
- QuickAns will be help to search any IT related query and also provide related information about it.
- Registered users can get the services which they want from the system.
- Registered users can use subscription for getting answers by Experts.
- Registered User can also get the notification.
- They can also provide their valuable feedback for the services of the site they used.
- Admin can view the details of the user.
- Admin can also view the payment status and feedback provided by the Registered users.

2.4 PROJECT DEFINITION

- QuickAns is a platform for developers and programmers to share knowledge and solve coding challenges. This site is largely self-moderated in that good-quality answers get upvoted, and poor answers are downvoted.
- Due to which users will be able to save a lot of time.

CHAPTER-3: SYSTEM MANAGEMENT AND PLANNING

3.1 Feasibility Study

3.1.1 Technical Study

- QuickAns system is a web-based application. The main tools and technologies which are going to be used in QuickAns are as follows :-
 - HTML
 - CSS
 - JQUERY
 - SERVLET
 - JSP
 - MYSQL
 - ECLIPSE
 - Diagram Drawing Tools:- VISIO
- Each of these technologies are freely available and the skills required are manageable. Time limitation of the product development and the ease of implementing using these technologies are synchronized.
- The resources which are required (both hardware and software) and technologies are available at no cost.
- By considering all these points we can say that our system is technically feasible as minimal or no cost is required in its development and maintaining it is also quite easy.

3.1.2 Economical Study

- The System will follow the freeware standards. No cost will be charged from the potential customers.
- In the development of the system, technologies which are going to be used are generally open source and there is no cost incurred in the development process as well.
- Relatively there is no cost associated in managing the system once it is developed.
- Especially the extra effort that is associated with paper making and marking will be significantly reduced while the effort to create descriptive statistical reports will be eliminated, since report generation is fully automated.
- Future Updates can also be integrated into the system at no cost.
- No special hardware integration is required by the system.
- So, it is very much clear that our system is economically feasible.

3.1.3 Operational Study

- The planning includes owner and other stakeholders for the development of the system.
- So, the system will be user friendly for all its stakeholders.
- Also support will be provided by our side if the owner/admin gets stuck into some problem.
- Our system will be easy to use and much secured.

3.2 Hardware/Software Requirement

➤ Client-Side Requirements:-

- Hardware Requirements :-

| | |
|-----------|---------------------------|
| Processor | Minimum Core i3 or Higher |
| RAM | Minimum 1 GB or Higher |
| Hard Disk | Minimum 2 GB or Higher |

- Software Requirements :-

| | |
|---------|---|
| OS | Minimum Windows 8 or Higher |
| Browser | Mozilla v65.0.2 or Chrome v73.0.3683.86 |

➤ Server-Side Requirements:-

- Hardware Requirements :-

| | |
|-----------|---------------------------|
| Processor | Minimum Core i3 or Higher |
| RAM | Minimum 5 GB or Higher |
| Hard Disk | Minimum 10 GB or Higher |

➤ Software Requirements :-

| | |
|----------|-----------------------------|
| OS | Minimum Windows 7 or Higher |
| Server | Apache Tomcat |
| Database | MySQL |

3.3 System Planning

3.3.1 Work Breakdown Structure

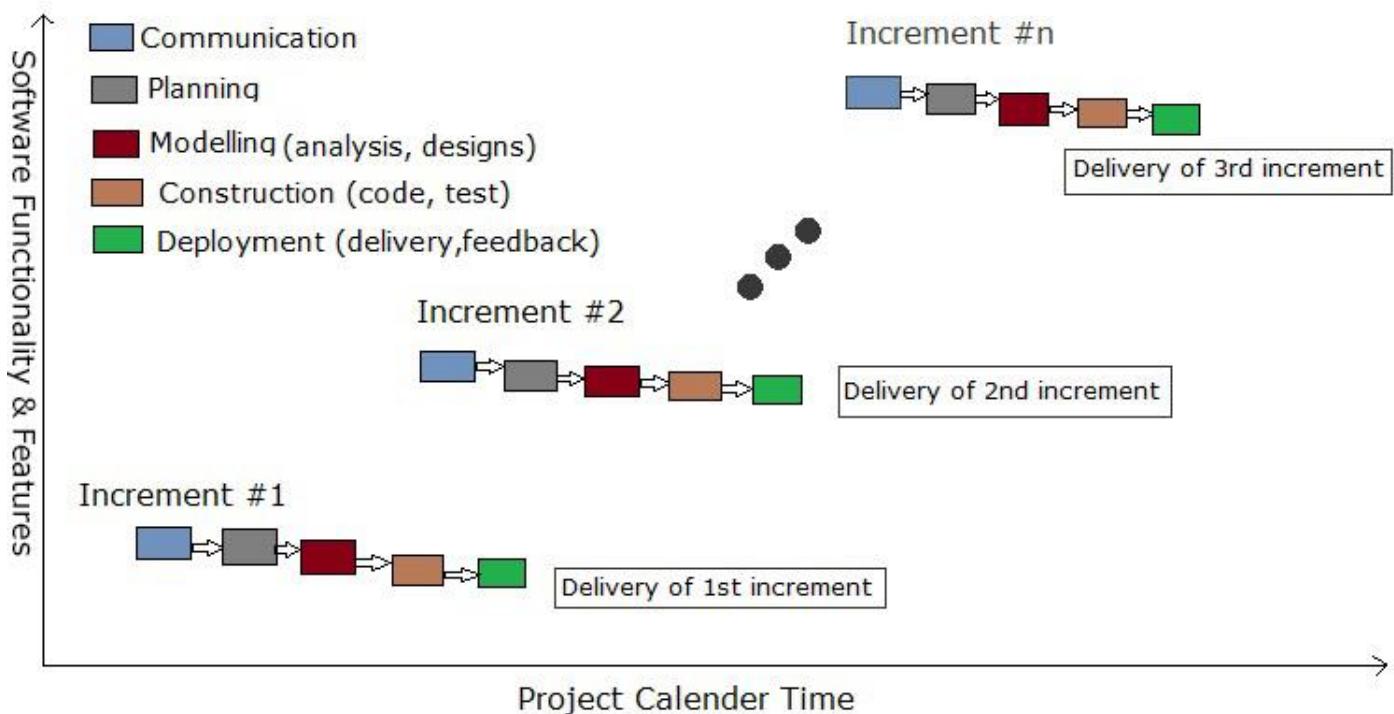

3.3.2 Gantt Chart

3.4 Process Model

Incremental Model

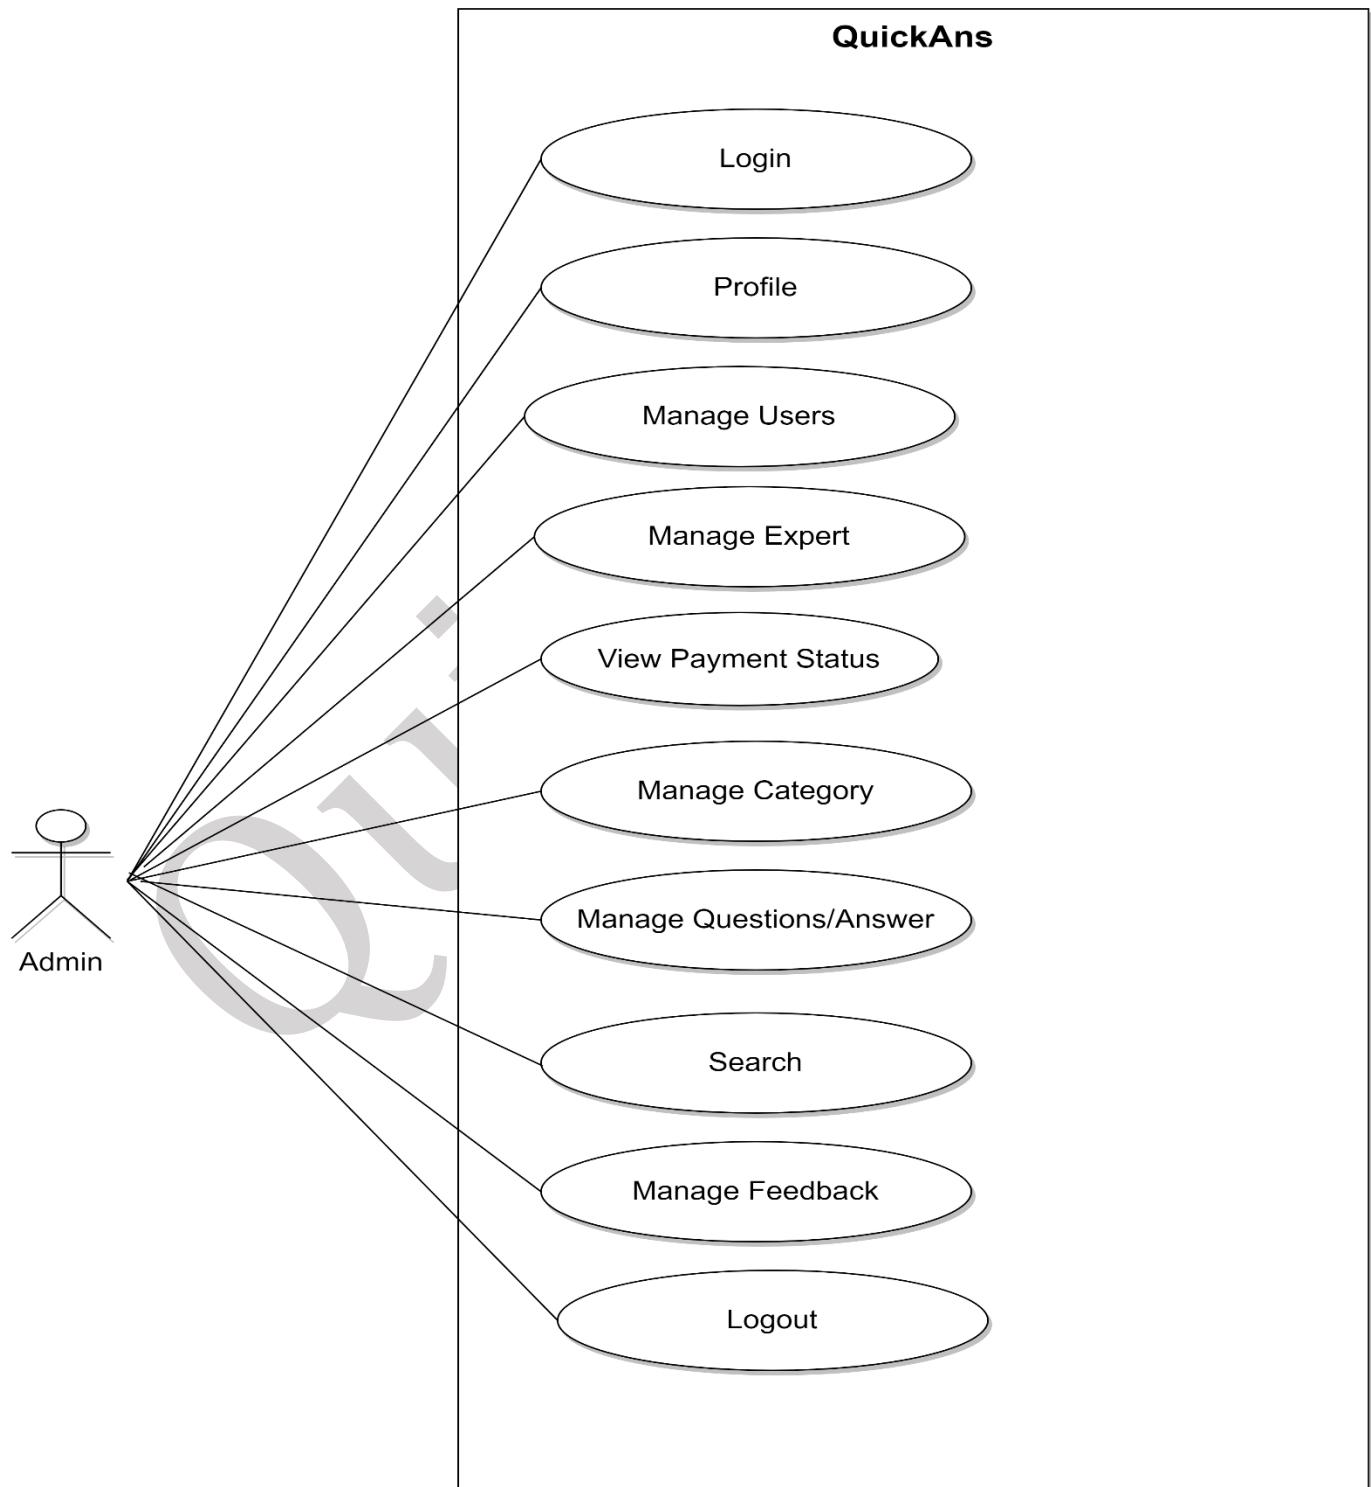

- Different phases of the software development are included in an increment in a linear fashion.
- The first increment will be a core product with many supplementary features. User uses it and the system will be evaluated with more modifications to better meet the needs.
- The main advantage of using this process model is that the short-term goals can be set and thus work can be done more effectively. Also, this helps the client to keep a good track of the development process. Due to this reason we choose this process model.

CHAPTER-7: SUMMARY

7.1 ASSUMPTION.

- The Client should have the basic knowledge of how the online systems works.
- Proper Internet setup is required to run the system smoothly.
- Client should be having a valid Gmail id.
- Expert users will have enough knowledge and expertise to provide valuable answers to the registered users.

7.2 LIMITATIONS

- The website may face competition from other Q&A platforms, making it difficult to attract and retain users.
- It may be challenging to attract and retain expert users, especially if they are not sufficiently compensated or motivated.

7.3 FUTURE SCOPE

- Expert user will get paid according to their upvoted or rated answers.
- New Revenue related Services other than the existing services will be added to the system into the future.
- The system could be expanded to include additional features such as discussion boards, and social networking capabilities to encourage user engagement and collaboration.

7.4 CONCLUSION

- The System is stable enough to provide a platform for registered users to connect with expert users and get their questions answered, thus creating a knowledge-sharing community.
- The subscription model can generate revenue for the website, but it should be priced appropriately to attract and retain users.
- The website can be scaled up and expanded to include additional features and functionality to enhance the user experience.
